ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

City History Club of New York

1905-06

The aim of the CITY HISTORY CLUB is not to create pedants or antiquarians: not to engender or foster party spirit; but to make good citizens; to arouse an interest in civic affairs; and to help the immigrant's child and the child of generations of loyal Americans alike to feel the duties of social service and the privileges and responsibilities of being "citizens of no mean city."

REPORT OF PRESIDENT.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The past year, which marks the tenth anniversary of the founding of the City History Club, has brought us growth in membership, increased interest from without in the aims and methods of the Club, and much effort on the part of officers and teachers to heighten the value and efficiency of Club teaching.

The Club has this year assumed no new responsibilities; its resources have been devoted to the carrying on of classes and to the publication of revised editions of printed matter.

We are happy to say that in response to the invitation mentioned in the report for 1904-1905 more than one thousand members of the "National Education Association" who came to New York in July were the guests of the Club, and were conducted to various places of historic interest by Club guides. These visitors were keenly appreciative; letters from them have come to us from all parts of the country, and their sympathy and interest, together with the kind acknowledgments of Dr. Canfield and Superintendent Maxwell, have been a great stimulus to our work. We hope that some of our friends will follow the example set by the City History Club of Boston, which already has a membership list of five hundred.

And now, as we look toward another year, we cannot but feel that an ever-increasing opportunity lies upon us.

At the present moment, when the problems of immigration are so great, and when open discussion of treachery in high places has so shaken the public confidence or indifference, there is more than ever need that the flame of true civic pride shall be kept burning. The means by which the City History Club seeks to create and strengthen an intelligent interest in civic affairs seem abundantly to be justified.

CATHARINE A. B. ABBE.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT.

The work of the Superintendent is varied and may be grouped under the following heads:

1. Selection and preparation of paid and volunteer teachers;

2. The holding of teachers' meetings and conferences of the paid teachers;

3. Visits to and general supervision of the classes;

4. Locating new classes after conferences with head-workers of settlements, etc., and supporters of paid teacherships;

5. Supervising district union and other general meetings of classes;

6. Training the corps of Junior lantern operators, guides, messengers, etc.;

7. Supervision of the Guide Bureau;

8. Preparation of the Club publications;

9. Selection and cataloguing Club lantern slides;

10. General correspondence and consultation at the office.

1. Teachers.

There are now 6 paid teachers, 2 members of the Dewitt Clinton High School faculty having been added during the year. These teachers have conducted the work of 26 classes. The model teacher, a new feature this year, has gone from class to class giving lessons in modeling clay plans of old New York, the forts, etc.

Twenty-eight volunteer teachers have conducted 35 classes; of these 14 have joined the Club staff within the year.

The "Teacher's Handbook," which was thoroughly revised last year, takes the place of the former Normal Class.

2. Teacher's Meetings.

Four meetings of teachers were held during the season at the home of the president. In addition to reports by the teachers on class work, brief talks were given on the following subjects: "A Lesson in Clay Modeling," "Methods of Preparing Notebooks," "Our City Milestones and Their Preservation," "Co-operation with the League for Political Education," "The Importance of Teaching Local Government," "The Use of Traveling Libraries," and "The Teaching of Civics in the Educational Alliance School for Foreigners." Two conferences of the paid teachers were also held.

3. Visits and Class Work.

The Superintendent visited about half of the classes during their regular sessions and met most of the others at the union meetings.

Each year the classes of the Club compete with each other. Compositions are written upon historical subjects and notebooks are made, filled with pictures of historic people and scenes of New York. Prizes of books upon historical subjects are given to those children who have done the best work.

The number of notebooks submitted in the competition of 1906 is 76 Primary, 69 Junior and 34 Senior. Many scholars do notebook work which is not submitted for competition. There are 18 essays on the following subjects:

Senior Subjects: 1. Piracy and the Slave Trade in New York. 2. The Colonial Assembly and Governor George Clinton. 3. Andrew H. Green and Central Park.

Junior Subjects: 1. Forts of New York, past and present (blockhouses, fortified heights and islands and arsenals). 2. New York's monuments to its people (where? to whom? why? describe those you have seen). 3. The story of Geo. E. Waring, Jr., and what he did for the boys of New York.

To encourage the singing of the historic songs by the classes Mrs. Emil L. Boas has given a prize of a cup.

4. New Classes.

During the year 15 new volunteer classes have been established at the following centers: People's Institute Club A (3), Union Settlement (2), Boys' Club at Avenue A and 10th St., Bethlehem Chapel (2), St. Agatha Church School, Richmond Hill House, Public Schools Nos. 15 and 184 (2) Harlem, Little Italy Settlement, Brooklyn, and 122 Pierrepont St., Brooklyn. New paid classes were established at Hudson Guild (2), Temple Emanuel, Warren Goddard House, Broome St. Tabernacle and Industrial School No. 1, Brooklyn. All but one of last year's supporters of classes have continued their aid and the following new supporters have been added:

Mrs. H. Meyers, Hudson Guild (for 2 additional classes), Miss M. J. Adams, and the Patria Club.

The number of classes could be indefinitely increased if the number of volunteer teachers or gifts from supporters for paid teachers were forthcoming.

5. Junior Meetings.

District meetings were held as follows:

| Location. | Number present. | Classes represented. |
|---|---|---|
| Broome St. Tabernacle..... | 130 | 16 |
| Hartley House..... | 140 | 12 |
| Emmanuel House, Brooklyn.... | 75 | 5 |
| 194 Prince St..... | 100 | 6 |
| Temple Emanuel..... | 100 | 10 |
| Gospel Settlement..... | 72 | 12 |
| A. C. Clark House..... | 117 | 15 |
| Church of the Archangel..... | 65 | 8 |
| Long Island Historical Society.. | 160 | 10 |

The purpose of these meetings is to foster interest in the larger work of the Club by establishing an esprit du corps. Reports of the classes in the district are read by their secretaries, the Club songs are sung, explanations of the general Club work are given and a stereopticon lecture ends the program.

The annual entertainment for the children of the Club was held as usual at the Educational Alliance, February 22nd. National songs of the different countries were sung by the Misses Hoyt in costume. About 800 members were present.

The thanks of the Club are due to the various organizations which allowed the free use of their halls.

On Evacuation Day parties of Juniors were conducted on excursions to Bowling Green, the Battery, Fraunces' Tavern, the blockhouse in Central Park and Ft. Washington.

Excursions are also made by the members of the classes under the guidance of the teachers. The children are taken to visit the various parks, museums, public buildings and scenes of events famous in the history of our city.

6. Junior Training Class.

The Superintendent has again this year conducted a class for the training of Juniors to operate the Club lantern, assist in the excursions and to aid in the general work of the Club.

7. Guide Bureau.

A class composed of Columbia postgraduate students, professional and Club teachers was organized last May to study the historic landmarks of the city. A series of illustrated lectures was given at Hartley House followed by historical excursions. Nine passed the final examination and were given certificates to act as trained guides, and 3 High School boys were qualified as trained Junior guides. These together with 4 graduate guides of the Club acted under the direction of Mr. Howard C. Green in conducting 1,083 members of the National Educational Association on excursions about the city after the close of the Association convention in July.

Through the courtesy of the President of the Club most of these excursions were given to the delegates without cost, and many expressions of gratitude and interest in the Club idea were received from the various parts of the United States represented.

A series of excursions for the spring of 1906 was arranged as follows:

1. March 3.—The Dutch City (south of Wall Street).
2. March 17—The English City (Wall Street to City Hall).
3. April 7.—Bowery Village and the New York Historical Society.
4. May 5.—Old Greenwich (south of West Fourteenth Street).
5. May 19.—Fort Washington, the Morris Mansion and Hamilton Grange.
6. June 2.—Cold Spring and Indian sites in Upper Manhattan.

With the approval of Dr. Maxwell, special notices advertising these excursions were sent to all the public schools. Saturday afternoons were chosen for the convenience of teachers.

8. Publications.

During the year the Superintendent has revised and added new and better maps (through the courtesy of Mr.

A. R. Ohman) for Excursions Nos. I, II, III and IV. Assistance in this work has been rendered by Messrs. E. H. Hall, R. P. Bolton, T. J. Burton and H. S. Mott. With the aid of the newly appointed Committee on Historic Traces it is hoped soon to complete the work of locating old landmarks in all the boroughs. "Graphic Views of Government" has also been revised and new diagrams added with the help of Prof. M. S. Brown, A. S. Beatman, Frank H. Miller and Paul Abelson. Two thousand sets of the historical illustrations have been published with three changes in pictures.

The historical illustrations, excursions and "Teacher's Handbook" have been placed on the public school supply list. About $115 worth of these materials have been ordered by the Board of Education during the year.

The Superintendent has responded to requests to address Parents' Meetings in several of the schools and Club materials and slides have been used to illustrate lectures in the Free Lecture Course of the Public Schools. School authorities have asked Club teachers to conduct school children to places of historic interest and to suggest programs for use in the school exercises.

9. Lantern Slides.

In addition to the 600 slides presented by Mr. Low in recognition of the services of the Club at the celebration of 250th anniversary of the City Charter, about 100 have been secured during the year, in part the gift of Mr. Courtlandt Palmer to illustrate York, England. The 1,450 slides owned by the Club have been systematically arranged and catalogued and are used together with the 300 slides loaned by the Citizens' Union to illustrate the following lectures on local history, geography and government:

New York under Father Knickerbocker.
" " in the English Period.
" " during the Revolution.
" " " " Federal Period.
" " City Government.

(Single lecture or course of 8 illustrating several City Departments at work.)

Graphic Views of Our Three Governments (National, State and City compared.)

Old York and New York.

Amsterdam and New Amsterdam.

Historic Brooklyn.

Historic Traces in New York To-Day.

(Single lecture or course of 9.)

The Development of the Metropolis.

The Geography of New York.

Holland and the Dutch War with Spain for Independence.

10. General Work.

The privilege was conferred by the President of the Borough of Manhattan upon the City History Club "to adopt such means as in its judgment is necessary to preserve from destruction and decay the milestones located at various places in the Borough of Manhattan." Seventeen mile stones have been located in the Boroughs of Bronx, Brooklyn, Manhattan and Queens.

The children of the several classes of the club are being taught a proper respect and care for these landmarks. They have already collected a sum of money to be used to preserve them. Coupon books are being circulated to serve as a receipt for contributions, and as a means to identify contributors who will be invited to attend public ceremonies around these stones.

Letters of inquiry as to Club methods have come from various sections of the country and in one case at least similar work has been successfully carried on. Boston now has a regularly organized City History Club with 7 directors and 16 classes. The certificate and medal awarded by the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Committee have been received. The exhibit sent to St. Louis was later forwarded to the Lewis and Clarke Exposition in Oregon and exhibit is now being planned for Jamestown.

By invitation of the American Institute of Social Service the City History Club will exhibit in the U. S. Department of Social Economy at the International Exhibition at Milan, Italy, June, 1906.

In co-operation with the League for Political Education a course of six lectures on City History was given in the League Hall during November and December.

The Ninth Annual Conference of Eastern Public Education Associations was held in New York from April 17th to 20th, 1906, under the auspices of the four organizations: Public Education Association, City History Club, Round Table and Woman's Municipal League. By special invitation of the City History Club a Public Session of this conference was held at Berkeley Lyceum, Friday afternoon, April 20th. Three addresses were made: "Self Government in Schools," Mr. Bernard Cronson; "The Origin and Development of the City History Club," Mrs. Robert Abbe; "Description of a Typical Class in City History," Mr. Bernard S. Deutsch; after which a discussion followed.

The annual exhibition of the work of the classes was held at the Berkeley Lyceum, 21 West 44th St., Friday afternoon, April 20th, from three until six, and Saturday morning, April 21st, from ten to twelve.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK BERGEN KELLEY.

CLASSES.

The City History Club has some classes taught by volunteer teachers who give their services one or more times a week. Other classes are taught by trained teachers who are paid by individuals or organizations.

Classes may be organized in any settlement or school for children or adults, and lectures or courses of lectures on City History or Government may be arranged by consulting with the Superintendent.

Visitors are welcome at the meetings of the various classes. Occasionally, excursions to historic points are substituted for the regular meetings of the clubs.
